“You get real experience; you can put your knowledge into practice in a business environment.”

IN MY KTP I...

My KTP with the University of the West of Scotland and Crawford Scientific was a two-year project that aimed to design and develop advanced e-learning products for use in analytical chemistry. The project involved initial research and specification, developing an e-learning website and specific modules, and embedding the knowledge and expertise internally.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE PROJECT WERE...

A key highlight was developing the e-learning platform, which has been a great success. In developing the product, key knowledge and processes were developed. Several thousand scientists on a global basis are using the e-learning platform over a wide range of industry types. Sales of the product are rapidly growing, with some key industry clients, and this is all down to the KTP project.

THE BEST THING ABOUT BEING A KTP ASSOCIATE IS...

You get real experience; you can put your knowledge into practice in a business environment. There are also lots of additional benefits, including the training and the support network; it's not just one thing.

FROM KTP I HAVE LEARNT...

One of the great benefits of KTP is the additional training that you get. You are allocated a training budget, which you can use to help you complete the project more effectively. I completed training in IT technologies and writing for the web. You also get to learn about, and experience, how to manage time and people.

LIFE AFTER KTP IS...

I still work for Crawford Scientific as its E-learning Developer and I feel I am a real asset to the company. I definitely feel that doing a KTP has made me more employable for the future.

I WILL RECOMMEND KTP BECAUSE...

There are so many additional benefits over an ordinary graduate job. Undertaking a KTP will make you more employable, which is so important today.
